BANK CLEARING ARE AFFECTED BY WEATHER CHANGE

Summer Apparel Has Little Attraction When Mercury Takes Drop.

No Tobacco Brought in; Farmers Are Busy.

DEPARTMENTS MAKE REPORT.

Clearings this week $558,675
Last week $627,160

The weather has been the chief factor in the trade this week, and owing to the fact that the weather man has been on the vaudeville stage this week, business has suffered. The week began with pleasant weather, and stores pulled out summer goods and displayed the airy stock. Wind and rain interfered with the trade for several days, and last night and today the weather man varied his turn by putting on cold weather.

Practically no tobacco has been received in the city this week, and the farmers have been at home, busy turning over clods in an effort to catch up with the spring work. All lines of farm work are backward this year. A traveling salesman, who makes his territory in the southern states, said the cotton crop is six weeks late. This is true of the tobacco section, and likewise of the wheat sections.

Secretary Fowler, of the Business Men's association, is expecting a prominent manufacturer from North Carolina next week. He will come in the interest of establishing a large cottonseed oil manufacturing plant in the city. With Paducah he is impressed favorably, and with a little effort it seems likely that a $75,000 plant will be erected in the city. He says Paducah is an ideal location for the plant, as the material can be shipped from the cotton region on the Cumberland and Tennessee rivers with little expense.

Nothing has developed on the surface of the railroad purchasing property at Metropolis, but what news that has leaked out has been an eye-opener to the business men.

J. J. Dorian Announces Name for Police Judge

Popular John J. Dorian, twice elected city treasurer, has announced his candidacy for the office of city judge, subject to the action of the Republican party. He will receive the nomination without opposition, so far as known. There never have been any factions where the genial Mr. Dorian was concerned.

Since he was deprived of the well earned victory of his second term by a technicality not discovered by either party until the election was over, friends of Mr. Dorian, Democrats and Republicans, have been urging him to make the race for city judge, as the people are demanding a capable man on the bench, who can be trusted to enforce the law with impartiality. Mr. Dorian has been urged for his probity and moral courage on more than one occasion, and he combines with fine equipment for the office, vote getting ability, always essential when people want to get a good man in office.

Since his name has been mentioned for the office, many Democrats have expressed a determination to remain aloof from the primary next month; because an effort will be made to force them to abide by the result of the primary, whether good men or bad men are nominated.

There are few contests for council places at the primary and with the prospect of a man like Dorian to head the ticket, the Republicans are expected to put out an unusually strong councilmanic and aldermanic ticket.

authorities fear the city's water supply will be polluted.

Wheat Injured.
Leavenworth, Kan., May 1.—Ice was found on ponds a half inch thick. It is reported that fruit and vegetables were destroyed. The wheat was damaged.

Two More Die.

QUARREL RESULTS IN MALICIOUS SHOOTING.

As a sequel to a quarrel, H. A. Thomas, alias Kid Carter, colored, fired one shot at Hallie Craven, his paramour, yesterday afternoon. The woman ran into Ward's grocery. Eleventh and Caldwell streets, to escape Thomas, who followed her. He fired one shot, but the bullet struck the edge of a counter and was deflected. Thomas escaped, but was arrested near the Union station by Patrolmen Jones and Hession. He was locked up on the charge of malicious shooting without wounding, and in police court was held over to the grand jury.

McCRACKEN COUNTY PARTY RETURNS FROM FRANKFORT

Mayor Smith and his party, including Auditor Kirkland and George Emery for the city, and F. M. Fisher, Richard Davis and William Patterson and C. E. Jennings for the county, have returned from Frankfort, where they succeeded in getting the county assessment increased reduced from 15 per cent to 4 per cent. Judge Lightfoot did not accompany the party. All were well pleased with their success, which will save the taxpayers about $15,000.

Don't Like Pure Food

Cincinnati, May 1.—A sweeping attack on the government pure food laws in the United States court today was made by the Corn Products company, a New Jersey corporation, control of which is in the hands of the Standard Oil company's group of financiers.

Capias in Raid Case

Marshal Elwood Noel has in his hands a capias for three of the defendants in the Birmingham raid cases, for which two verdicts for $25,000 were returned at the last term of federal court. The three defendants are: Johnson Lady, Burnett Phelps and Henry Townes. The three defendants will be brought to the city and unless their assessment of the verdict is paid they will go to jail or take the pauper oath.

SHERIFF ELEY OF MARSHALL FINDS 3 STOLEN HORSES

Arrests Men in Whose Possession They Were Discovered This Morning.

W. C. Roark, Farmer, Lost Animals and Reported.

PRISONERS TAKEN TO BENTON.

Benton, Ky., May 1. (Special.)—Sheriff Eley telephoned this morning that he captured the men who stole W. C. Roark's horses, and recovered the animals. He is on his way back with them.

Horse thieves stole a mare and two colts from W. C. Roark, who resides on the Benton road, three miles from the city, Thursday night. It was thought that the horses strayed away from the pasture, but yesterday afternoon Mr. Roark determined that his horses had been stolen. He notified Sheriff Peter Eley, of Benton, and yesterday morning some gypsies passed through Benton with the horses. Sheriff Eley with his deputies began the chase and trailed them until 1 o'clock this morning when they were compelled to return to Benton owing to the cold weather, and the fact that the trail was lost.

The gypsies camped on Mr. Roark's farm Thursday night, and before daylight stole the horses and left. The mare and colts are valued at $600. Sheriff John W. Ogilvie was notified yesterday afternoon of the theft and all of the officials of the surrounding counties have been notified to be on the watchout for the thieves. It is believed that they are en route for Tennessee.

Grace Church Meeting

The annual meeting of the congregation of Grace church will take place in the parish house next Monday night at 7:30, for the purpose of hearing the reports of the work of the year just past, and the election of a vestry for the ensuing year.

"BABES IN TOYLAND" WILL BE SEEN AT THE KENTUCKY.

Critical playgoers who enjoy exquisite pictorial effects and gorgeous ensemble features will welcome the announcement that Julian Mitchell's sumptuous production of Victor Herbert and Glen MacDonough's brilliant operatic extravaganza, "Babes in Toyland," will be the offering at the Kentucky theater Friday, May 7, with the same production as presented over one year and a half in New York and one year in Chicago.

KUTTAWA IN QUARANTINE BECAUSE OF SMALLPOX.

Because of an epidemic of smallpox at Kuttawa, a quarantine has been established by Eddyville yesterday afternoon. Reports from Kuttawa say there are 53 cases of the disease in the town, and some of the most prominent people have it in their homes. The board of health is co-operating with the physicians, and it is believed that the epidemic will be checked without further spread. The disease is of mild form. The origin of the epidemic has been traced to a small girl who attended a party and all of those in attendance were stricken.

No danger is felt in Paducah, as during the quarantine against Cairo a thorough vaccinating tour was made over the city.

The Wallerstein team will line up against the Red Sox tomorrow afternoon on the shop grounds. Both teams are in good form and an interesting game is expected. The battery for the Wallerstein team will be: Elliott and Mercer, while the Red Sox will depend upon Switzer and Cathey.

FEAR WEATHER.

Farmers are dubious about the damage the cold weather has done, and they are anxious for the weather to be cloudy to night, as this is a preventive of frost. The officials temperature went to 46 degrees last night, and the weatherman predicts a fair and freezing weather. There was no frost last night, but the temperature was low enough to do damage. For several days the farmers will be unable to determine the exact damage, although they are hoping that it will be slight. The cold weather doubtless will cause the fruits to be knotty and imperfect.

May Day Fete Postponed a Week.

The May Day party at Wallace park planned for this afternoon by the Junior-Epworth League of the Broadway Methodist church has been postponed until Friday afternoon, May 7. The cold wave made an open air program seem unadvisable today. The program will be carried out next Friday. The schools will have a half holiday on Friday and the children can all be present.

MAYOR TO SETTLE DISPUTES ABOUT PAYING LICENSE

Court of Appeals Holds Ordinance Valid on This Point.

Conflict Between General and Specific Tax.

MERCHANTS HAVE RECOURSE.

In overruling the motion to reinstate the injunction of certain merchants, to restrain the city from collecting license, Judge Barker, of the court of appeals, sustained Mayor Smith's contentions on every point, although he left the way open for any aggrieved individual to enter suit on his own account.

One of the points involved, as to whether or not a department store should pay license on all departments, was left open, but as Mayor Smith and the department store owners agree, there is little likelihood of any further litigation.

One of the principal complaints was that of Harbour and others that City Treasurer George W. Walters demanded that they pay license on all departments, instead of paying the single merchant's license of $25. Mayor Smith agreed that the merchant's license should cover it. Mr. Walters declared that he had the authority of City Solicitor Campbell for his position.

The ordinance provided that whenever a dispute arose between the license payer and the license inspector the mayor should arbitrate. The court of appeals decided that this is a perfectly proper provision since the mayor's decision to not interfere with the license payer's right to appeal to the courts whenever he feels himself aggrieved.

Inspector Hicks apparently concurred in the view of Mr. Walters, although Mayor Smith sided with the license payers. Hereafter, all disputes will be referred to the mayor. The decision also says that when there is a general and a specific license fee, the merchant must pay the specific, and not the general.

The opinion in full is:

"The real question involved is the validity of a general license ordinance of the city of Paducah, affecting practically every business, profession and calling of that city. I am of the opinion that the motion to reinstate should be overruled, although I do not mean to decide that there is no merit in any of the positions taken by the plaintiff. I do not think, however, that the following positions are tenable:

"(1) That the ordinance is invalid because of certain irregularities in the procedure while it was on its passage. I am of the opinion that this objection is without merit.

"(2) That it is invalid because, where a doubt of the proper class to which any applicant belongs arises, the ordinance refers the matter to the mayor. This is a question which must of necessity arise in the administration of fiscal affairs of a city and it is equally necessary that some one should decide it. I do not think this a delegation of legislative authority to the mayor. It is strictly an executive or administrative duty; an error on the part of the mayor leaves the payer free to apply to the courts for relief.

"(3) The provision of the ordinance, where a general license tax is found in the schedule and also a specific license tax, does not mean that a business should be taxed twice or to pay two licenses, but that the tax payer should be required to pay the specific license only. To illustrate, all retail merchants are required to pay a license of $25 per annum; all grocers are required to pay (say) $20 per annum. Now, the grocer is a retail merchant, but he is not required to pay both licenses—only the grocer's license.

"The question as to whether or not large department stores, which carry different lines of goods, such as boots and shoes, dry goods, drugs, etc., should pay a license for each line or one license for all has given me more trouble. I do not, however, think it wise to undertake to decide this question on this motion. Any merchant, who thinks himself aggrieved by any ruling as to his license, can bring his individual case into court and have it decided. These large and perplexing questions should not be decided in advance; each case should be decided on its own merits, and not in connection with others. In these conclusions, I am authorized to say all members of the court concur.

"HENRY S. BARKER.
"Judge Court of Appeals."

Miss Lillian Abbott, of 310 North Ninth street, who has been ill for some time, is improving.

Have not coughed once all day?

Yet you may cough tomorrow! Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. Your doctor's approval of its use will certainly set all doubt at rest. Do as he says.

The Week In Society.

O MINSTREL MAY.

Once more you come, O Minstrel May.
Playing anew your roundelay.
While birds are gaily carolling
The first love—lyrics of the Spring.
Singing to greet you on your way.

Musician of the Green Highway!
The robin, nightingale and jay.
Your changing melodies do sing,
O Minstrel May!

Blossoming branch and bushes sway
With chirping choirs in full play;
And every songster on the wing
Doth new and sweeter music bring,
O Minstrel May!
—Torrance Benjamin, in May Minstrel May.

D. A. R. Fountain Dedication.

Social, civic and patriotic interest for the coming week centers in the dedication of the beautiful D. A. R. Memorial Fountain to be erected at the corner of Broadway and Fifth street in the Custom House grounds. This will take place on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the ceremony will be as simple and as stately as the striking figure of the proud and typical Indian whom the genius of Lorado Taft has called forth from the block of marble. Paducah, the chief, has returned to guard his own.

The program has not been entirely arranged as yet, but it is the desire of the Chapter to have 500 or more of the school children of the city sing "America," which will be an inspiring feature. The other music will be patriotic airs played by Deal's band. Lorado Taft, himself, hopes to be present for the occasion, and will make a short address. Mrs. Sallie Chenault of Lexington, regent of the state D. A. R., will make a brief talk, as also will Mrs. Sallie Marshall Hardy, of Louisville, national vice-president-general. These notable women will be the guests of Mrs. E. G. Boone, regent of the Paducah Chapter. Many D. A. R. members from near-by places will be present for the occasion.

The statue and base have already been shipped from Chicago. Mr. Taft has written. Mr. Washington, city engineer, is just awaiting the arrival of the permit from Washington, D. C., to begin work at once on the concrete that will entirely cover the plot of ground at the corner, and will place the fountain as soon as that is done.

The full details of the program will be arranged at the D. A. R. meeting on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Phillips Will Attend Federation Meeting in Nashville.

Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips and little Miss Anna Webb Phillips will leave Monday for a round of visits in Nashville, Tenn., where Mrs. Phillips has a host of friends. They will be the guests of Mrs. Phillips' sister, Mrs. Hamilton Park, on West End avenue, the first part of the stay. Mrs. Park's daughters, Mrs. John J. Blecker, of Columbus, Ga., and Mrs. Houston Fall, of Fort Worth, Texas, will also be there.

During the meeting of the Tennessee Federation of Woman's clubs Mrs. Phillips will be the guest of Mrs. John Arnold Bell. She will visit Mrs. Frank O. Watts and Mrs. William T. Howe before returning home.

Mrs. Gardner in Oklahoma City. The Daily Oklahoman, Oklahoma City, of April 27, contains the following social notices of one of Paducah's most popular society women:

"Mrs. Armour Gardner, of Paducah, Ky., who is visiting her son, Mr. Charles A. Cox, is one of the most enthusiastic sojourners that has come to our 'Land of the Fair God' for some time. The call of the west has had such a ready response from Mrs. Gardner that we may look for her to pitch her tent among us at no very remote time in the future. During her short stay in the city Mrs. Gardner's delightful personality has won for her a number of friends who will warmly welcome her in case she returns. Such a loss to Paducah will be a decided gain for Oklahoma society inasmuch as Mrs. Gardner is an unusually attractive woman. She expects to return to Kentucky next Saturday."

"Mrs. T. M. Upshaw entertained a few friends Friday afternoon at bridge in honor of Mrs. Armour Gardner, of Paducah, Ky. The house was beautifully decorated with American Beauty roses, and the score cards were painted in an American Beauty design to match. Two water-color paintings, the work of Miss Blanche Upshaw, were given to Mrs. Gardner and Mrs. W. E. Taylor. A five-course luncheon was served after the game. The guests were: Misses Gardner, M. S. Cooter, Eli Brown, T. W. Williamson, S. E. Laird, W. E. Taylor, Frank O'Neill and Marvin Binkley."

Pretty Afternoon Luncheon.

Mrs. Charles Kiger entertained the decorating committee of the Woman's club, of which she is chairman, at her home in the Smith apartments on North Fifth street, Friday afternoon. It was an "Afternoon with Stage Celebrities," closing with a luncheon. The house was effectively decorated in spring flowers. The prize for guessing the greatest number of celebrities from pictures, went to Miss (Ethel) Morrow. The guest's prize was presented to Miss Mary Bringham of Clarksville, Tenn. Miss Morrow's prize was a Dresden bell buckle and Miss Bringham's was a Dresden hat pin.

The luncheon table was attractive in pink and white and made a charming picture. A center piece was a pink basket, filled with pink carnations. Smilax was twined about the chandelier and sweet peas, in white and pink, were scattered over the table. The place cards were pictures of stage celebrities. A three course luncheon carried out a pink and white theme.

The guests were: Mrs. Henry Rudy, Mrs. Saunders Fowler, Mrs. James P. Smith, Mrs. John W. Keller, Mrs. Edward Bringham, Mrs. Frank Boyd, Mrs. Cook Husbands, Mrs. Edmund Post, Miss Ada Enders, Miss Hallie Hisey, Miss Ethel Morrow and Miss Mary Bringham, Clarksville, Tenn.

Young Kentuckian Honored.

John T. Tigert, of Nashville, has been elected president of Kentucky Wesleyan College at Winchester, Ky. Mr. Tigert is a son of the late Bishop Tigert. He is a graduate of Vanderbilt University, and also of Oxford, having won the first Tennessee Rhodes scholarship. Mr. Tigert has been teaching in Central College, Fayette, Mo., since his return from England. He succeeds Prof. H. K. Taylor, who recently resigned as president of Kentucky Wesleyan. Prof. Tigert made an enviable record as a scholar and athlete while at Vanderbilt and later at Oxford. Prof. Tigert's distinguished father was known in Paducah, where he had visited and preached. Both are Kentuckians. Prof. Tigert is quite young for the honor conferred upon him.

Paducahan at Nashville Wedding.

The Nashville Banner says of the wedding of Miss Mattie Dallas Villines, of that city, who was a popular visitor of her cousin, Mrs. Roy Katterjohn in Paducah last summer: "A marriage in which much interest centered was that of Miss Mattie Dallas Villines and Mr. Robert Locke Wilkinson at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alice L. Villines on Carroll street. All the wedding arrangements were in beautiful taste and the wedding guests numbered 150. The house was artistically decorated for the occasion in green and white and palms and ferns were effectively arranged throughout the rooms and grouped to form an altar in the parlor. The officiant in the impressive ceremony was Rev. W. H. Johnston, pastor of Elm street church, and Mr. Fount Rion played the nuptial music. Mrs. Rion sang charmingly 'Because' and 'All For You.' The only attendants were two little ribbon bearers, the bride's niece, Alice Marie Poindexter, and Eldridge K. Campbell. The bride was beautiful in her tailored traveling suit of gray chiffon cloth, worn with a hand-made white satin blouse, elaborately braided, and a gray braid hat trimmed with self-toned feathers. Her only ornament was a brooch of Roman gold set with a solitaire diamond, a gift from the groom, and she carried a sheaf of Ascension lilies, caught with streamers of white satin ribbon and smilax.

"The two children attendants were in white with a touch of blue. Mrs. Villines, the bride's mother, wore a mourning toilette of braided black silk, was assisted in receiving by her daughters, Mesdames R. H. Poindexter and Dallas M. Villines, and her cousin, Mrs. Roy Katterjohn, of Paducah, Ky. Mrs. Poindexter appeared in a blue silk directoire costume finished with bands of cream lace and Mrs. Dallas Villines wore a pretty costume of pongee with touches of green. Mrs. Katterjohn was costumed in cream net over silk, combined with violet velvet."

Terrific Cyclone.

Jackson, Tenn., May 1.—A terrific cyclone passed over a section of this county, doing much damage. Reports from the western and northern portions of the county indicate more than a hundred houses, barns and buildings of various kinds were blown down and more than a score of people hurt and several killed. The wife and son of Mr. George Tyson, were seriously hurt and a son of Mr. Dickerson was killed.

In the western part of the county and north of the city, Mrs. Turner and twin babies were blown some distance and left in a field. The mother and one of the babies escaped unhurt, while the other and another child were killed and the father badly hurt.

The doctors in the various neighborhoods were kept busy during the night and some of the physicians of this city were called to nearby points

Daily Thought.

Peace and poverty in the home are better than discord and wealth.

Queen of the May will look well in crinoline.

It doesn't look much like May Day; but that is no excuse for printing it April 31.

Weather Observer Wright cannot be accused of anything more than complicity in a general conspiracy or contributory negligence in connection with the escape of March weather yesterday.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT OF IT.

The editor of the Arlington Courier (Dem.) attended every session of the senatorial convention. We quote the mildest part of his description of it: "One of the most highbanded robberies of the people of the Second senatorial district in the history of the state was pulled off under the name of a Democratic convention in Paducah this week. The time was set for Tuesday, but the meeting was adjourned from time to time in order to force the Barry delegation to leave and the whole of Tuesday and Wednesday was taken up in waiting and playing for time by W. A. Berry, the campaign manager of Eaton. In fact, Berry was the big show, the side show and the hoochie coochie all in one, having the chairman absolutely under his thumb and run the whole thing to suit himself while the other poor innocents sat by and watched their power taken from them as easily as taking candy from a baby. "J. E. Fisher, of Marshall county, who was instructed for Barry, proved traitor to his people and was rewarded for his action by being made chairman of the alleged convention. "He ruled absolutely as W. A. Berry, the wet-nurse of the occasion, dictated. If Berry said a Barry man was out of order, then he was out of order. "Every time there appeared a chance for Barry the Eaton crowd moved to adjourn and there were enough Paducah rooters (not delegates) to make the eyes outstare the days and adjourn they would."

THE SALVATION ARMY.

On April 10, 91,000 people, members of the Salvation Army, celebrated the eightieth anniversary of the birth of General William Booth, the commander. He is a remarkable man, and commander of a remarkable army. It feeds millions annually, it saves thousands of lives, it eases thousands of souls, and reaches a class of people, which the Christian church, considered in the sense of its lay membership, will not soil its hands to save.

There is a great error abroad in the world concerning the Salvation Army. It is generally believed the army is doing a work the churches can't do. Wrong. It really is doing a work the church—again referring to the lay membership—won't do.

How frequently we hear that the noisy methods of the Salvation Army appeal to the class the army is trying to reach.

Did our good, foolish, blind, esthetic Christian brother ever see a Salvation Army lassie kneel down beside a broken hearted Magdalen, place her arm around the poor creature's neck and there let her weep out her sorrow and confession on a woman's shoulder? Any one could do that, but won't, because people would talk.

And then, the repentant Magdalen is not permitted, with the refreshing knowledge that there is some pure human love in the world for her, to go forth to be knocked down morally by the first Christian man or woman to whom she applies for work. The Salvation Army is wise to the fact that the rest of us wouldn't let a fallen woman repent and seek a living in the right path, if she wished to. The Salvation Army secures employment for the Magdalen or enrolls her in the corps and thus saves her from the necessity of sinning to live.

The Salvation Army uses drums and horns and accordions on the street, because these instruments are adapted to street use. It would be difficult to carry a pipe organ around with them, and utterly impossible to hire singers, such as we demand in our churches, under threat of ceasing to attend and pay the preacher. If they sing to attract a crowd, it is what is done in many churches.

People wonder that a girl in the garb of the Salvation Army can go into a saloon and not be insulted. A woman fashionably attired could not risk it. She is safe because the garb of the Salvation Army is recognized as standing for consecration to something, and that speaks volumes for the work and conduct of its members.

There is nothing peculiar about the Salvation Army, excepting that it adapts its methods to circumstances and means, and doing good in the world, which the rest of us are not doing.

The army has its critics, and most of us think we are being charitable when we contribute a nickel to the cheerful-faced solicitor with red band on her hat and tambourine in her hand. All right, this is a snobbish world, and all of us are more or less snobs. If the Salvationists have any snobbery in their make-up, they must look down upon a certain class of Christians they meet in their daily rounds. For they obtain most of their support from the class not well represented in church circles.

DUN'S REVIEW.

New York, May 1.—The developments of the week are of special significance. One is the distinctive improvement in the iron and steel trade on which the whole commercial situation depends. Reduced prices have stimulated an active demand which in turn brought about this week a lifting of prices on a number of products. The demand is especially notable for construction and agricultural interests. The other development is the foreign commerce statement which reveals extraordinary imports of crude materials for manufacturing purposes, a clear proof of reviving industry.

The cold weather of the week, however, has been unfavorable and retarded business in mercantile lines.

The cotton goods trade in a number of western centers is quite satisfactory and the aggregate of transactions is fully up to normal. In the woolen goods division there has been some cancellation on the current heavy weight goods, especially fancy wool overcoatings.

Woolen and worsted yarns continue strong, with advancing tendency. Some increase in orders is reported by shoe manufacturers in New England, but trading continues more or less restricted.

RAILROAD NOTES

Not one "engine failure" during an entire month is the record of Joe Walker, general foreman of the machine shops, and O. A. Garber, foreman of the roundhouse. For this distinction these two officials wore blue ribbons today. The record is something that has never been accomplished on the Paducah division of the road before. An "engine failure" is a railroad term when a locomotive is unable to pull a train, and the main line is blocked until a second engine and crew can be sent to relieve the engine. There is nothing that is more aggravating to the transportation department of a railroad, and that for a month not one engine should fail to pull its train is a feather in the caps of the employees of the shops.

Workmen were busy today replacing window sashes to the machine shop. The windows were blown out several weeks ago by the explosion creature's neck and there let her

CALLOWAY CASES HEARD ON MERITS

Decision of Special Judge Hughes on Demurrer.

Contests of Democratic Primaries
Will Be Up for Disposition
in July.

THE JONES BROTHERS APPEAL.

Murray, Ky., May 1. (Special).—Motions for new trials in the cases of Fred and Victor Jones, convicted of manslaughter at the present term of circuit court, were overruled and the cases will be appealed. Pending the decision of the court of appeals the prisoners probably will go to the penitentiary, that the time served may apply on their sentences, if the cases are affirmed. They were convicted for killing Will Lewis.

Overrules Demurrer.

Special Judge Hughes, of Paducah, overruled the demurrer in the primary election cases and will hear evidence on the point of whether or not the primary was properly called under the law, the contestants claiming that legal notice was not given. The case probably will not be tried until July and should the primary be set aside as is sought by the contestants, the Democratic committee, as at present constituted, is favorable to the faction that was successful at the primary, and will likely exercise the right to make nominations and declare those who were successful at the primary, the nominees.

FOOT RACE

WILL BE WITNESSED TOMORROW
AT WALLACE PARK.

Hudnell and Carnes Will Race Ten Miles, Passing Grand Stand
Eighty Times.

Everything is in shape for the long distance running race at League park tomorrow afternoon and it is up to the weather man to put on the finishing touches. The ten-mile race between Hudnell, of Tennessee, and Carnes, of Indiana, is not one of those go-as-you-please kind, but is an endurance race, a run from start to finish. The track is in good condition and is a 1/4-mile lap, which will bring the runners past the grandstand 80 times in the big event. The preliminary race of one mile has several entries, all of whom are well known young men of the city.

Band concert music will begin at 2:30 and the first preliminary will be called at 3 o'clock. The prizes are a cup for the winner of the preliminary, a cup for the winner of the last mile of the ten-mile race. The gate receipts go to the winner between Hudnell and Carnes.

The officials are: Starter, C. L. Dickerson; Judges, Torian and Lunn. Excursions from Metropolis and Golconda will be run into Paducah tomorrow by the steamers Royal and Cowling for the purpose of giving the residents of Illinois an opportunity to see the race. Mr. William Deal received the message this morning that the boats would make Sunday trips to see the races.

Are Drugs Necessary? Do Drugs Cure Disease? Do Drugs Assist Nature?

If people were born right and afterwards lived right, there would be no use for medicine. Every doctor knows this. So do other well-informed people.

One thing more. When a person lives wrongly, or acquires bodily weakness by heredity, medicine can do only very little. Medicine cannot cure him. Only charlatans claim that medicines will cure disease. Medicines may palliate symptoms. Medicines may urge the powers of Nature to resist disease. Medicines sometimes arouse the efforts of the human body to right itself against derangements.

This is the most that medicine can do. A man accidentally puts his finger in the fire. Instinctively he wets his finger in his mouth, then blows on it for the cooling effect. This is no cure. He knows it very well. But it makes it feel better for the time being.

People eat unwisely. This produces dyspepsia or indigestion. The only rational cure is to eat correctly. Yet if a palliative is at hand the pains of indigestion can be mitigated.

the throes of dyspepsia assuaged. The medicine cannot be said to have cured. It simply palliates disagreeable symptoms. The cure must come through right living.

Take Peruna, for instance. No one claims Peruna is a cure for dyspepsia. But Peruna will stimulate the stomach to perform its function properly. Peruna will increase the flow of digestive fluids, without which digestion cannot be carried on at all. It will increase the relish of food, the appetite.

It is admitted that all this can be accomplished by right living, but there are so many people who either will not or do not know how to eat correctly that a tremendous amount of good can be done by the wise use of Peruna.

A stomach that has been frequently abused performs the function of digestion very lazily. Such a stomach allows the food to remain undigested for some time after it is swallowed. This leads to fermentation of the food. Sour stomach is the result. This goes on week after week, until the blood is poisoned with the product of fermentation. This condition is very apt to produce rheumatism, dyspepsia, neuralgia, gout, etc.

It is not claimed that Peruna will cure rheumatism. Nothing will cure rheumatism but correct living. But it is claimed that Peruna will assist a badly abused stomach to perform its work.

If a person would correct his habits, persist in right eating and temperate ways, undoubtedly the stomach would right itself, the blood would rid itself of the poison, and everything would be right. But as said before there are a multitude of people who will not or cannot adopt right methods of living. To such people Peruna is a boon. A dose before meals will assist the stomach to do its work. This prevents fermentation of the food, brings about normal digestion, and all the train of ills that follow indigestion disappear.

In other words, Peruna is helpful to those who live badly, or those who have acquired some chronic weakness. Peruna does not cure, but it assists the powers of Nature to bring about a cure. The whip does not increase the power of the horse to pull a load, but judiciously use it stimulates the horse to use his powers at the right time, without which he could not have pulled the load.

This illustrates the effect of Peruna, or any other good remedy upon the system. Taken at the right time, it calls forth the powers of the human system to meet the encroachments of disease, and thus cuts short, if not entirely ends, the diseased action.

No one should ever attempt to substitute medicine in the place of right living. In the end such an attempt will prove a disaster. But an occasional use of the right medicine at the right time is a godsend, and no reasonable person will undertake to deny it.

Those who know how to use Peruna find it of untold value. By and by the world will get wise enough so that through correct living no medicine at all will be needed. But that time has not arrived. In the meantime, while the world is approaching that perfection in which all medicine will be eliminated, Peruna is a handy remedy to have in the house.

Slight derangements of the stomach; slight catarrhal attacks of the liver, the throat, bronchial tubes, lungs or bowels; these attacks are sure to lead to grave diseases, and can be averted by the judicious use of Peruna.

Let us ask ourselves the question, how does Peruna assist Nature? How does Peruna even mitigate acquired diseases?

Get Saturated With Caffeine.

When a person has used coffee for a number of years and gradually declined in health, it is time the coffee should be left off in order to see whether or not that has been the cause of the trouble.

A lady in Huntsville, Ala., says she used coffee for about 40 years, and for the past 20 years was troubled with stomach trouble.

"I have been treated by many physicians but all in vain. Everything failed to perfect a cure. I was prostrated for some time, and came near dying. When I recovered sufficiently to partake of food and drink I tried coffee again and it soured on my stomach.

"I finally concluded coffee was the cause of my troubles, and stopped using it. I tried tea and then milk in its place, but neither agreed with me, then I commenced using Postum. I had it properly made and it was very pleasing to the taste.

"I have now used it for four months and my health is so greatly improved that I can eat almost anything I want and can sleep well, whereas, before, I suffered for years with insomnia.

"I have found the cause of my troubles and a way to get rid of them. You can depend upon it I appreciate Postum."

S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC

Something more than an ordinary tonic is required to restore health to a weakened, run-down system; the medicine must possess blood-purifying properties as well, because the weakness and impurity of the circulation is responsible for the poor physical condition. The blood does not contain the necessary quantity of rich, red corpuscles, and is therefore a weak, watery stream which cannot afford sufficient nourishment to sustain the system in ordinary health. A poorly nourished body cannot resist disease, and this explains why so many persons are attacked by a spell of sickness when the use of a good tonic would have prevented the trouble. In S. S. S. will be found both blood-cleansing and tonic qualities combined. It builds up weak constitutions by removing all impurities and germs from the blood, thus supplying a certain means for restoring strength and invigorating the system. The healthful, vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed make it splendidly fitted to the needs of those systems which are delicate from any cause. It is Nature's Perfect Tonic, free from all harmful minerals, a safe and pleasant acting medicine for persons of every age. S. S. S. rids the body of that tired, worn-out feeling so common at this season, improves the appetite and digestion, tones up the stomach, acts with pleasing effects on the nervous system, and reinvigorates every portion of the body.

Evansville, Ind., May 1.—A terrific windstorm passed over Southern Indiana and Western Kentucky, the gale blowing at the rate of fifty miles an hour. ### Town Left in Darkness.

Georgetown, Ky., May 1.—The storm did a large amount of damage in Georgetown and vicinity. Many of the largest and most beautiful shade trees were uprooted and the roof of the Lancaster Hotel was blown off. Georgetown College and Wolf & Sons' mill were also sufferers while the electric light plant which is down in a hollow became flooded and the town was left in darkness.

Five Houses Wrecked.

Dickson, Tenn., May 1.—The storm wrecked five houses in Charlot, eight miles north of this place. No one was hurt.

STORM'S TOLL OF DEATH AND RUIN

Damage to Property Will Reach Into Thousands.

Eight Dead in Illinois, Four at Chicago and Four at Texas City—Over 100 Injured.

STORM TURNED TO BLIZZARD

Chicago, May 1.—Death and destruction, tornado and torrents of rain, snow, hail and freezing weather are the features of the storm that have swept the greater portion of the Mississippi valley the past two days. In Chicago and its suburbs four deaths are reported as resulting from the storm, 50 or more persons injured and the damage to property will reach far into the thousands of dollars.

A brief summary of dispatches show: Business section of Golden, Mo., destroyed, five persons dead; Sumnerville, Mo., two dead, many injured. At Texas City, Ill., Edward Overton, wife, baby and a servant killed, many others seriously injured, and the town wrecked.

In the North.

From Benton Harbor and South Haven, Mich., come reports of great damage to crops.

In Wisconsin the storm was converted into a blizzard and for many hours raged in many towns, one of the severest snow storms of the season.

At LaCrosse and Superior traffic was practically abandoned because of the snow drifts. Marion, Johnson City and Cartersville, Ill., report much damage by wind, rain, hail and lightning. Eight lives is the storm's toll in the vicinity of Mammoth Springs, Ark. The dead are: B. F. Sanders, his wife and daughter; George Whitworth and wife; Robert Frost and wife; Miss Holland.

In Tennessee.

Tennessee sends reports of the terrible effect of the storm, the most serious being at Pulaski, where it is said that 20 persons were killed and 40 injured by the tornado which swept some buildings from their foundations and caused others to collapse. Bee Springs, near Pulaski, was reported to have been totally destroyed, but details are lacking.

In and about Nashville there was considerable damage, but the full extent of the casualties is not known. Four are dead at Medina and two at Decherd.

Through the South.

A tornado swept portions of Alabama, killing three persons at Fayetteville four near Hartsell and two at Danville.

Georgia was struck by the storm at many points and property said to be worth many thousands of dollars was wrecked.

The exact number of dead and injured is not yet known. Country districts in Kentucky suffered greatly as a result of the wind, rain and floods.

Many Are Homeless.

Cassville, Mo., May 1.—Eleven people were killed and 25 or 30 hurt 14 seriously, by the tornado which destroyed Golden, 17 miles east of here, late yesterday.

The known dead are: Mrs. Will Henson, Miss Cora Prentiss, Bud Hopson, Miss Bessie Santzell, Mrs. Jarvin, Miss Stella Roberts, five persons who lived on Kings river, five miles east of Golden, whose names have not been learned.

The entire town with the exception of one stone building, was blown down and the people are now without food or shelter. Enormous damage was done to farm property.

Reports from points in northwestern Arkansas say that many have been killed and damage to the amount of half a million dollars done by the storm.

Fifteen Killed.

Huntsville, Ala., May 1.—Fifteen are dead, several score injured and 250 houses demolished as a result of the storm which struck Fayetteville, Tenn., and vicinity, according to a reliable man who has just reached Huntsville from that section. Telegraphic and telephonic connection with Fayetteville have been severed since early last night. The dead at Harts are number five.

Blizzard in North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., May 1.—North Dakota last night was in the grip of one of the worst blizzards of the season. Snow has been falling for 24 hours.

Seventy-five Killed in South.

Louisville, Ky., May 1.—Dispatches gathered throughout the south indicate that 50 to 75 people met sudden death in the great wind that loosed throughout the section. The number of injured is probably threefold the list of killed, and it will probably be several days before the complete list can be gathered.

While the storm, which reached the south from the upper Mississippi valley shortly after midnight, left its scar on Mississippi, Arkansas, Kentucky, Alabama, Missouri and more remote states, Tennessee perhaps suffered the most severely. It is substantiated that 60 people were killed in that state.

hardest windstorm ever experienced in this section occurred, doing hundreds of dollars worth of damage. A number of stock barns were blown down in the Hiseville, Bev. Va'tow and Uno neighborhood, and a large amount of stock was killed. Hardyville, not far from this city, also suffered.

It is impossible at present to estimate the amount of the damage but so far no loss of life has been reported.

In Horse Cave the residence of George Keane was badly damaged but the occupants escaped without injury.

Like a Real Tornado.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., May 1.—Not for years has such a disastrous wind, thunder and rainstorm visited this section as that which swooped down upon Lawrenceburg and Anderson county last night. Several thousand dollars' worth of damage was done. Outbuildings and fences were blown down, and several residences in the county were unroofed.

The terrific rains caused the streams to rise rapidly, and at Van Buren, on Salt river, the people have begun to move to higher ground.

The distilleries at Tyrone also suffered from the wind and water.

Thousands of Dollars' Damage.

Cincinnati, O., May 1.—A violent windstorm, that swept over Kentucky at 1 o'clock this morning, hit Latonia with almost the severity of tornado, causing a damage of $10,000 to the Latonia race-track, and from $10,000 to $15,000 damage to the town of Latonia and vicinity.

The ticket office and the shelter sheds and fifteen stables at the track were destroyed. The benches in the grandstand were picked up by the wind and thrown in all directions over the grounds. Part of the roof of the clubhouse and the roof of the paddock were blown off. The grandstand was slightly damaged.

The steeple of John's Hill Catholic church, in Campbell county, Ky., opposite Latonia, fell with a tremendous crash, demolishing the roof of the church.

In the town of Latonia the wind did some freakish tricks. It blew a long scantling through the house of George Tibbetts, whose family had a narrow escape from injury. The scantling crashed through the window of the dining room, passed on into the kitchen, and after demolishing the dishes, darted out the back door and knocked down a panel of fence.

A two-story frame building containing a poolroom below and a bible class room above was blown down. The waiting-room of a street car company was lifted up by the wind and smashed to tinders on the other side of the street. No lives were lost and no one was seriously injured so far as known.

Eminence Struck by Storm.

Eminence, Ky., May 1.—Eminence and Henry county were struck by a terrific wind and thunderstorm. In this town some of the largest shade trees were uprooted and the roof of the Moody Hotel, the tallest building in town was partly blown off. Reports of damage to barns and outbuildings in the county are coming in. There has been no loss of life.

Shelbyville Suffers.

Shelbyville, Ky., May 1.—Shelbyville people thought for a time that they were in the grasp of a tornado. The wind blew a gale and, during the worst of the storm, the roof of Shannon & Smith's undertaking establishment was blown off and the stock practically ruined by the water which poured in upon it. The firms' loss is estimated at $3,000.

Some of the Details.

Franklin, Tenn., May 1.—The worst storm ever known in Williamson county in regard to extent and loss of life and property was the one which raged here. So far as known, six deaths are reported, with many maimed. Many are seriously injured, while property has been destroyed to perhaps the value of $75,000, with insurance possibly to the amount of from $5,000 to $8,000.

Reports received from Decherd, indicate that considerable damage to property in that vicinity has resulted from the heavy wind and rainstorm that swept over that section, and probably two lives were lost, it being reported to the railroad officials here that a house blew down on a man and little child about a mile from Decherd and that both were killed.

Considerable damage is reported to property throughout Franklin county and barns and houses throughout the county were demolished in numbers.

The telegraph wires are down for a mile or more about Decherd, while between Florence and Murfreesboro on the N. & C. much wire troubles are reported and extra crews are employed in repairing the damage.

Ruin and Devastation.

One of the heaviest death tolls reported in the storm area comes from Williamson county, where four people are reported dead as a result of falling houses. Aside from the two children of Mrs. Sweeney reported, the railroad officials report that a man named Coleman was killed and also a lady named Maury. However, these last named are unverified.

Between fifteen and twenty residences are demolished in and about Franklin, while several persons are reported injured.

Two Injured.

McEwen, Tenn., May 1.—The residence of Mr. Rush Brown, four miles south of McEwen, was destroyed by wind. Mrs. Brown was seriously injured by the falling roof, one son, Oscar was also injured seriously.

Fatalities at Fayetteville.

At Fayetteville, Lincoln county, the storm raged many residences, blew off one end of the Elk cotton mills and killed three persons. Miss Jennie Keiser was killed by a live wire which was blown down during the heavy wind, while a man named Wade and one named Prosser were killed by falling buildings.

Storm in Montgomery.

Guthrie, Ky., May 1.—The storm which passed over this section did a lot of property damage in the surrounding territory. It is reported that the village of Sango is wiped out and three or four people killed.

Damages at Walker Hill.

Murfreesboro, Tenn., May 1.—A terrific rainstorm passed over this county and sensational rumors are afloat of widespread damage and destruction and even the death of numerous persons. Murfreesboro is cut off from the county as far as telephone communication is concerned.

Considerable damage was wrought at Walker Hill, a little village eight miles southwest of here, and the storm-swept area embraces a strip of territory two or three miles wide. Mrs. Upchurch was seriously injured in the collapse of her residence, but no other injuries are reported to citizens of that section, although in the destruction of a barn on Sam Haddeston's place seven fine horses were killed.

The Baptist church was also wrecked and Ward's Mill, between Walker Hill and Florence, was blown into the middle of Stone's river.

The wires are all down, and the unverified report here is to the effect that at Florence some eight or ten residences were destroyed, but no one is hurt. A large number of men are at work trying to establish communication by wire with the stricken sections.

It is also reported here that at Cowan several persons were injured and a vast amount of damage done to property in that vicinity.

It is reported that the storm struck Florence station and demolished ten residences and killed one man, and continuing up towards Walker Hill, wrecked a number of houses.

Fatalities at Horn Lake.

Memphis, Tenn., May 1.—The list of those who were killed in the storm at Horn Lake, Miss., follows: MRS. GEORGE M'PEAK.

MISS M'PEAK. CHILD OF ED. EDMONDSON, 6 years old.

SON OF E. S. MCKEE. WIFE OF MIKE SANDERS, negro.

NEGRO EMPLOYEE of George McPeak.

The seriously injured: E. S. McKee, arm broken. Mrs. E. S. McKee, leg broken.

Daughter of E. S. McKee, hurt internally, will die. George McPeak, skull crushed, will die.

Five members of the family of Dave Breck, negro, painfully hurt. Mike Sanders, negro, crushed and will die.

CHAPTER IX.

THE AWAKENING.

EARLY the next morning Corporal Thomas came into the store and found Necla tending it while Gale was out. Ever since the day she had questioned him about Burrell this old man had taken every occasion to talk with the girl, and when he asked her this morning
about the reports concerning Lee's strike she told him of her trip and all that had occurred.

"You see, I'm a mine owner now,"
she concluded. "If it hadn't been a secret I would have told you before I went, so you could have been one of the first."

"I'm goin' anyhow," he said. "If the lieutenant will let me and if it's not too late."

Then she told him of the trail by Black Bear creek which would save him several hours.

"So that's how you and he made it?"
he observed, gazing at her shrewdly.
"I supposed you went with your father?"

"Oh, no! We beat him in," she said and fell to musing at the memory of those hours passed alone with Meade, while her eyes shone and her cheeks glowed. The corporal saw the look, and it bore out a theory he had formed during the past month, so as he lingered he set about a task that had lain in his mind for some time. As a rule, he was not a careful man in his speech, and the delicacy of this maneuver taxed his ingenuity to the utmost, for he loved the girl and feared to say too much.

"The lieutenant is a smart young fellow," he began, "and it was slick work jumpin' all those claims. It's just like him to befriend a girl like you. I've seen him do it before."

"What?" exclaimed Necla. "Befriend other girls?"

"Or things just like it. He's always doin' favors that get him into trouble."

"This couldn't cause him trouble,
could it, outside of Starik's and Runnion's grudge?"

"No, I reckon not," assented the corporal, groping blindly for some way of expressing what he wished to say.
"Except, of course, it might cause a lot of talk at headquarters when it's known what he's done for you and how he done it. I heard somethin' about it down the street this mornin', so I'm afraid it will get to St.
Michael's and then to his folks."

"I don't understand," said Necla.
"He hasn't done anything that any man wouldn't do under the same circumstances."

"No man's got a right to make folks talk about a nice girl," said the corporal, "and the feller that told me about it said he reckoned you two was in love." He hurried along now without offering her a chance to speak.
"Of course that had to be caught up quick; you're too fine a girl for that."

"Too fine?" laughed Necla.
"I mean you're too fine and good to let him put you in wrong, just as he's too fine a fellow and got too much ahead of him to make what his people would call a messy alliance."

"Would his people object to—such a thing?" questioned the girl. They were alone in the store, and so they could talk freely. "I'm just supposing, you know."

"O Lord! Would they object?" Corporal Thomas laughed in a highly artificial manner that made Necla bridle and draw herself up indignantly.

"Go ahead and tell me; I won't be offended," insisted the girl. "You must, I don't know much about such things, for I've lived all my life with men like father and Poleon and the priests at the mission, who treat me just like one of themselves. But somebody will want to marry me some day, I suppose, so I ought to know what is wrong with me." She flushed up darkly under her brown cheeks.

Corporal Thomas began to perspire uncomfortably, but went on doggedly:
"I'm goin' to tell you a story, not because it applies to Lieutenant Burrell!"

"Of course," said the girl.

"—but just to show you what I mean.
It was a good long spell ago, when I was at Fort Supply, which was the frontier in them days, like this is now.

YOU CAN HOLD UP YOUR BREAD
for criticism with confidence if you have made it of MOMAJA flour. For there will be no fault to be found with it from crust to center.

Include a sack of this flour in your next grocery order. Don't take any other kind. There is only one best flour as you'll acknowledge when you come to use the MOMAJA brand.
Ask your grocer.

F. L. GARDNER & CO.,
Distributors, 1149 Broadway.

We freighted in from Dodge City with bull teams, and it was sure the fringe of the frontier—no women, no society, nothin' much except a lot of injuns and a few officials with their wives and families. Now, them kind of places is all right for married men, but they're tough sleddin' for single ones, and after awhile a feller gets awful careless about himself. He seems to go backward and run down mighty quick when he gets away from civilization and his people and restaurants and such things. He gets plumb reckless and forgetful of what's what.
There was a captain with us, a young feller that looked like the lieutenant here and a good deal the same sort—high tempered and chivalrous and all that sort of thing, a West Pointer, too, good family and all that, and what's more, a captain at twenty-five. Now, our head freighter was married to a squaw, or leastways he had been, but in them days nobody thought much of it any more than they do up here now, and particularly because he'd had a government contract for a long while, ran a big gang of men and critters and had made a lot of money. Likewise he had a girl, who lived at the fort and was mighty nice to look at and restful to the eye after a year or so of cactus rees and mesquite and buffalo grass.
She was twice as nice and twice as pretty as the women at the post, and as for money—well, her dad could have ought and sold all the officers in a ump, but they and their wives looked down on her, and she didn't mix with them none whatever. To make it short, the captain married her. Seemed like he got disregardful of everything, and the hunger to have a woman in just overpowered him. She'd been soured by every single man for 400 miles around. She was pretty and full of fire, and they was both of an age to love hard, so Jefferson swore he'd make the other women take her, but solderin' is a heap different from any other profession, and the army has got its own traditions. The plan wouldn't work.

"By and by the captain got tired of ryin' and gave up the attempt—just devoted himself to her—and then we was transferred, all but him. We shifted to a better post, but Captain Jefferson was changed to another company and had to stay at Supply. Gee, it was a rotten hole! Influence had been used, and there he stuck, while the new officers cut him out completely, just like the others had done, so I was told, and it drifted on that way for a long time, him forever makin' an uphill fight to get his wife recognized and always quittin' loser. His folks back east was scandalized and froze him cold, callin' him a squaw man, and the story went all through the army, till his brother officers had to treat him cold in order to keep enough warmth
at home to live by, one thing leadin'
to another till he finally resented it openly. After that he didn't last long.

They made it so unpleasant that he quit the service—crowded him out, that's all. He was a born soldier, too,
and didn't know nothin' else nor care for nothin' else; as fine a man as I ever served under, but it soured him so that a rattlesnake couldn't have lived with him. He tried to go into some kind of business after he quit the army, but he wasn't cut out for it and never made good as long as I knew of him. The last time I seen him was down on the border, and he had sure grown crotchety. He had quit the squaw, who was livin' with a greaser in Tuc-son."

"And do you think I'm like that woman?" said Necla in a queer, strained voice. She had listened intently to the corporal's story, but he had purposely avoided her eyes and could not tell how she was taking it.

"No! You're different, but the army is just the same. I told you this to show you how it is out in the States.
It don't apply to you, of course."

"Of course!" agreed Necla again.
"But what would happen to Lieutenant Burrell if—if—well, if he should do something like that? There are many half breed girls, I dare say, like this other girl, or—like me."

She did not flush now as before. Instead her cheeks were pale.

"It would go a heap worse with him than it did with Captain Jefferson,"
said the corporal, "for he's got more ahead of him, and he comes from better stock. Why, his family is way up."

"I never thought of myself as an Indian," said Necla dully. "In this country it's a person's heart that counts."

"That's how it ought to be," said the corporal heartily, "and I'm mighty sorry if I've hurt you, little girl. I'm a rough old rooster, and I never thought but what you understood all this. Up here folks look at it right, but outside it's mighty different. Even yet you don't half understand."

"I'm glad I'm what I am," cried the girl. "There's nothing in my blood to be ashamed of, and I'm white in here."
She struck her bosom fiercely. "If a man loves me he'll take me, no matter what it means to him."

The corporal slid down from the counter where he had been sitting.
"I'm goin' to hunt up the lieutenant and get him to let me off. Mebbe I can stake a claim and sell it."

TEWFIK PASHA HEADS CABINET

Had Some Difficulty in Organizing it.

In Democratic Manner New Sultan
Drove Through Streets to Mosque
—Usual Pomp Absent.

NO COURT MARTIAL ORDERED.

Constantinople, May 1.—Tewfik Pasha has finally succeeded in forming a new cabinet to preside over the Turkish empire, a task he undertook reluctantly when some of the influential members of the committee of Union and Progress displayed opposition to Hilmi Pasha resuming his old post of premier.

Tewfik Pasha heads the cabinet as grand vizier; his minister of war is Said Pasha, and the minister of foreign affairs is Rifat Pasha.

Mehmed V. drove through the streets in democratic fashion today on his way to the mosque to offer up regular prayers. The pomp and ceremony that formerly attached to the function were altogether lacking, and the subjects of the new sultan seemed to appreciate his democratic manner and accept it as evidence of the beginning of a more lenient rule.

A rumor emanating from Saloniki to the effect that Abdul Hamid would be court martialed was in circulation
here, but it met with denial.

Not a Local Row.

Adana, May 1.—The conviction is held by the Armenians that the Moslem attacks against them had their origin in the Constantinople massacres, and began simultaneously in the district, within a radius of one hundred miles from the gulf of Alexandretta, and therefore they maintain that they could not have started from a local row in Adana, in which two Turks were shot by an Armenian, as he was leaving a church, with his bride whom the Turks were trying to capture.

No Meetings.

No quorums of the street and public improvement committees were present last night, and it was impossible for the two committees to hold meetings. The principal men for the public improvement committees was the ordering of new chairs for the council room. Alderman Hank did a little investigating, and he has found that the city can order castings and repair the chairs cheaper than it can purchase new ones. It is quite possible that the old chairs will be repaired. Those present last night were: Aldermen Hank, Potter, Burrett and Councilman Hannin.

Rastus Goes Fishing.

Mr. Henry—"Going fishing on washday, Rastus? I thought Melissa needed you to gather wood and make a fire to boil the clothes."

Rastus—"Yes, sah, Marse Henry. But Anty Drudge
here, she done sho'd M'Lissy how to wash de clo's without no fiah an' M'Lissy she say hit's as easy as rollin' off a log."

Anty Drudge—"That's right, Mr. Henry. Rastus had better be working than fishing, but Melissa doesn't need him. Fels-Naptha makes the biggest washing easy for one person in less time than the old way."

Do your washing without a fire next time. Save the bother, the discomfort and the cost of fuel.

Wash your clothes with Fels-Naptha
in cool or lukewarm water, in summer or winter.

It's much easier—no hard rubbing is needed.

It saves the clothes because there's no boiling to weaken them and no hard rubbing to wear them out.

It takes less than half the time of the old way.

And this Fels-Naptha way of washing in cool or lukewarm water makes your clothes cleaner, sweeter, and fresher than if you boiled and hard-rubbed 'em till Doomsday.

Don't take a substitute for Fels-Naptha because it will not do the work.

Look for the red and green wrapper and follow the directions printed on the back.

WATER POWER IS WASTED IN SOUTH

Wonderful Resource of Section
Left Valueless.

William E. Curtis Tells of Chance for Big Boom in Manufacture.

NATION STARTS AN INQUIRY

Washington, May 1.—The present administration evidently intends to pursue the policy laid down by former President Roosevelt in his special message to congress concerning the control of the water power of the country, for Secretary Ballinger, of the interior department, has ordered an investigation by the geological survey to ascertain what water power sites still remain unoccupied on the public domain outside the national forests, with a view of obtaining legislation from congress "to control and regulate their disposition."

Among the most valuable of all the material resources of the south is the abundance of water power which is now going to waste in the central and southern states, but is being utilized to a considerable degree in North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia for cotton factories. The low price of fuel in Alabama and Tennessee, the inexhaustible supplies of coal that may be mined at an insignificant expense, will probably prevent the development of the water power for manufacturing purposes in these states for many years, although several large projects are under way and in contemplation in Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky. The most important phase of this subject at present, however, is the conservation and protection of this great source of wealth so that it may not fall into the hands of speculators and monopolists. Several addresses were delivered on this subject at the recent conservation conference in Washington, and a board of army engineers has made a report containing much valuable information and many suggestions for the consideration of congress.

Several bills have been introduced into both houses, granting the use of water power created by dams and other structures built by the government on the rivers of the United States for the benefit of navigation and to empower the secretary of war to authorize private persons or corporations to construct dams to develop and use the water power where the government has not undertaken such work. A general bill was introduced in 1905 to cover this subject, and General Mackenzie, then chief of engineers, made a comprehensive report upon it which was endorsed by Judge Taft, then secretary of war, as "very comprehensive, accurate and instructive." Hence it may be assumed that the principles laid down by General Mackenzie will be the policy of the administration.

General Mackenzie. "The federal government has no possessory title to the water flowing in navigable streams, to the land comprising their beds and shores; hence congress can grant no absolute authority to anyone to use and occupy such waters and lands for manufacturing and industrial purposes. The establishment and control of manufacturing and industrial enterprises, as well as other matters pertaining to the comfort, convenience and prosperity of the people, come within the powers of the state, and the supreme court of the United States holds that the authority of the state over navigable waters within its borders, and the shores and beds thereof is plenary, subject only to such action as congress may take in the execution of its powers under the constitution to regulate commerce among the several states.

"To take or to authorize the taking of the property of one individual for the use and benefit of another in carrying on a private business or industry is not a proper exercise of the right of eminent domain. There may be certain enterprises of a quasi-public character, such as electric light and railway companies, that would desire to avail themselves of water power and to which the right to condemn private property could be granted, but the granting of such right is believed to be the function of the states, inasmuch as the organization and incorporation of these enterprises, as well as the title and ownership of the property affected, are matters for state control and regulation.

"To legislation authorizing the secretary of war to lease water power created by works constructed by the government, I see no special objection, but I know of no demand for it in the public interest. The right of congress to regulate, control and dispose of such water power is believed to be questionable, inasmuch as the power constitutes a valuable property created at the public expense and when utilized by private persons or corporations should be paid for.

Partnerships of quasi-partnerships between the government and private persons or corporations have not been generally favored in the past, as experience has shown that they are apt to be attended by many annoying complications. I do not believe that sufficient revenue would be derived from renting water power to compensate for the trouble and inconvenience that might ensue from the adoption of such a policy.

"Regarding the proposition to empower the secretary of war to authorize the use and development of water power at localities not improved by the United States, it should be borne in mind that natural water power—that is, power made available by the existence of natural falls and rapids in a river—is appurtenant to riparian ownership and the right to use it is governed by state laws on the subjects of private property."

This definition of the power and policy of the general government is especially pertinent to several propositions now pending before congress and under consideration by the committees on rivers and harbors, and it explains the attitude of the war department toward such enterprises.—W. E. Curtis in Chicago Record-Herald.

SUES ASSOCIATION

H. L. KIRKHAM, OF HICKORY GROVE, PLAINTIFF.

Wants to Recover Money on Tobacco And Involves Grader in the Suit.

A suit was filed in quarterly court in Mayfield by H. L. Kirkham, of near Hickory Grove, against the Planters' Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, and J. M. Sawyer for damages in the sum of $121.35.

The plaintiff says that during the year 1908 J. M. Sawyer was engaged in prizing tobacco for said association and that on or about April 14, 1908, he delivered to defendant, J. M. Sawyer, his entire crop of tobacco, consisting of 885 pounds of leaf valued at 9 cents a pound, and 695 pounds of lugs of the value of 6 cents per pound, for the purpose of being priced and stored and sold by the said association. Further the plaintiff alleges in the petition that the defendants have confiscated and appropriated the said entire crop of tobacco and have wholly failed and refused to account to this plaintiff for any part thereof and have thereby damaged him to the extent of the full value thereof, $121.35.

It is claimed by Mr. Sawyer, the defendant, that Mr. Kirkham was indebted to him and he received the tobacco and credited the alleged account with what he received for the tobacco.—Messenger.
